NC STATE ALUMNI
ASSOCIATION

Dear Alumni and Friends:

Join us for an unforgettable journey to the mysterious Amazon River Basin, where the biodiversity of Earth's largest rainforest ecosystem is coupled with the marvels of awe-inspiring Machu Picchu, the legendary "Lost City of the Incas."

Winding over 4,400 miles from the Andes Mountains to the Atlantic Ocean, the Amazon River flows through vast tracts of virgin rainforest producing a fifth of the world's freshwater supply. Our voyage begins aboard the deluxe, exclusively chartered ZAFIRO, a small, expedition river ship specifically designed to be one of few passenger vessels permitted to navigate the remote tributaries of the Peruvian Amazon and the pristine wetlands of Pacaya-Samiria National Reserve. The ship's expert, English-speaking naturalists will guide us through this fragile biome to see endemic butterflies, endangered pink river dolphins, squirrel-sized tamarins, resplendent birdlife and enormous blooming water lilies. Gain further insight into the culture of riberenos (indigenous river people) during visits to two Amazon villages.

Our unique expedition continues to the Sacred Valley of Urubamba, the cradle of the mighty Inca Empire. This stunning landscape of snowcapped peaks, ancient agricultural terraces and flowering meadows is dotted with magnificent archaeological sites and picturesque Quechua villages. This wondrous valley connects Machu Picchu and the UNESCO-inscribed, ancient Inca capital of Cuzco, evocative Inca temples and sublime colonial architecture. The highlight of our extraordinary Andean experience is an included visit to Machu Picchu, unparalleled in its aura of mystery and majesty. This beloved UNESCO World Heritage site encompasses more than 200 archaeological treasures built dramatically amidst emerald green peaks which deftly obscured the citadel from the outside world for over four centuries.

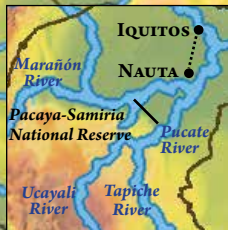

The perfect complement to your Peruvian expedition is the Colonial Lima Pre-Program Option in the coastal capital's historical center, a UNESCO World Heritage site. This outstanding small group expedition is a great value. Reserve now while space is available.

Very truly yours,

Kathy Hart

The safety and well-being of our travelers remains our highest priority. Cruise lines and some other providers of services (as well as, potentially, some countries) require all passengers traveling on our programs to present confirmation of a full COVID-19 vaccination, and, as well, passengers may have to produce evidence of a recent negative COVID test. All our staff are committed to adhering to all health and safety protocols from the start of your trip to the end as directed by the United States Centers for Disease Control and Prevention, overseas health officials as well as those protocols mandated by your cruise company (if applicable) and other suppliers of services. Detailed protocol information tailored to your travel program will be mailed to you along with additional pre-departure information.

This afternoon, visit a butterfly farm and meet indigenous river people, or ribereños, who cultivate and protect several rare butterfly species, including the iridescent blue morpho. Learn about the ribereños' ancestral traditions and symbiotic relationship with this remarkable ecosystem.

Machu Picchu

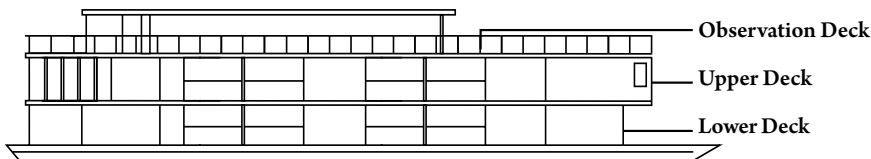

Cradled by the soaring peaks of the Andes Mountains, the Inca citadel of Machu Picchu evokes awe and wonder like few places on Earth. Built in the 15th century as a summer retreat for the Inca emperor Pachacuti, the spectacular site was unknown to the outside world for four centuries until American explorer Hiram Bingham III discovered it in 1911.

Historians believe Machu Picchu was abandoned when the Inca Empire was conquered by the Spaniards in the 16th century, leaving behind a remarkably preserved glimpse of ancient life.

Clinging to thickly forested slopes 8,000 feet above sea level and tucked deep in the Sacred Valley, Machu Picchu's remote location and exclusive existence prevented Spanish conquest and adds to the site's preservation and ethereal aura. One of the New Seven Wonders of the World, this treasured UNESCO-inscribed citadel showcases the Incas' engineering prowess and sophisticated understanding of astronomy in a mosaic of mystical altars, complex aqueducts and granite steps unfathomably carved from escarpments. Stones were shaped so meticulously they were able to fit together without mortar, a masonry technique Inca builders perfected in the approximately 200 structures that comprise the Machu Picchu complex.

Stairs and andenes (agricultural terraces built into the mountainside), where llamas nonchalantly graze, lead to the ruins' symbolic structures—including the Temple of the Sun and Intihuatana, a large ceremonial stone used by Inca priests for astrological predictions. Dramatically situated at the meeting point between the Andes and the Amazon Basin, Machu Picchu is also a wonder of nature—harboring a rich diversity of highly endemic microclimates, flora and fauna. Among the over 400 bird species present, many such as the versicolored barbet and the collared trogon are found only in Machu Picchu.
